More than 'Just a Lab' Produces over 2,000 Jobs a Day

About the Lab

This independent full-service lab has manufactured nearly 15 million spectacles since its inception in 1970 and is currently producing well over 2,000 jobs daily. In addition to the normal prescription eyeglass business the lab handles for eyecare professionals (ECPs) nationally, Classic Optical specializes in high-volume vision materials contracts with governmental agencies, managed care organizations, and many optical retail chains. Employing state-of-the-art technology and innovative thinking, Classic Optical has custom designed and deployed real-time integrated infrastructure to reduce cost, eliminate administrative burdens, and increase performance. For client groups and participating ECPs, Classic Optical has designed and activated contract-specific Web sites, established data interface platforms, set up utilization databases, and launched unique customer service tools. With its advanced and innovative in-house IT team, Classic Optical can immediately respond and adapt to clients' needs; this unique capability is a key difference that makes Classic Optical much more than "Just a Lab."
